

Beat: Travel

Spain detects non-compliances in airline information about reimbursements

Government recalls the rights

Madrid, 21.05.2020, 12:20 Time

USPA NEWS - The Spanish Ministry of Consumer Affairs has detected a series of breaches by airlines in the information that they must give to the consumer to guarantee their right to reimbursement. Minister Alberto Garzon has sent a communication to airlines to remind them of their obligations, according to the recent European Commission Recommendation C (2020) 3125, dated May 13.

In it, the Commission recalls the conditions for the issuance of the bonds by airlines as an alternative to the reimbursement of package tours and transport services canceled in the context of the COVID-19 pandemic. The Ministry has observed that several Airlines operating in Spain are not providing the correct information to users who, due to the cancellation of flights due to the pandemic, opt for their right to reimbursement.

Hindering the user's access to their right to reimbursement does not comply with the recommendations of the European Union. For this reason, Garzón has addressed the presidents of airlines and industry associations to remind them of their obligation to include in communications and messages addressed to passengers the procedure for those who want to request a refund of money. Both the alternative bonus and the right to reimbursement must appear clearly and accessible in the information of the airlines. Otherwise, the Ministry of Consumption plans to exercise the cessation action against companies that do not comply with the regulations.

The European Commission admits that airlines have the right to issue bonds as an attractive and reliable alternative to money reimbursement, but points out the voluntary nature of the acceptance of the bond by the passenger. In case of not being accepted by the client, the airline must reimburse the total amount of the ticket within seven days of the passenger's request.

The Commission recalls that redemption in the form of a voucher is only possible with the agreement of the passenger, as set out in Article 8.1.a) of Regulation (EC) No 261/2004 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 11 February 2004. This text establishes common rules on compensation and assistance to air passengers in case of denied boarding and of cancellation or long delay of flights.

The Ministry further informs that, in the event that the passenger has accepted the voucher without the company clearly offering them the option of reimbursement as an alternative, this consent will be considered flawed, as they do not have all the relevant information. In such case, the consumer will continue to maintain his right to reimbursement.

Article online:

<https://www.uspa24.com/bericht-17024/spain-detects-non-compliances-in-airline-information-about-reimbursements.html>

Editorial office and responsibility:

V.i.S.d.P. & Sect. 6 MDSiV (German Interstate Media Services Agreement): Jose A. Martin

Exemption from liability:

The publisher shall assume no liability for the accuracy or completeness of the published report and is merely providing space for the submission of and access to third-party content. Liability for the content of a report lies solely with the author of such report. Jose A. Martin

Editorial program service of General News Agency:

United Press Association, Inc.

3651 Lindell Road, Suite D168

Las Vegas, NV 89103, USA

(702) 943.0321 Local

(702) 943.0233 Facsimile

info@unitedpressassociation.org

info@gna24.com

www.gna24.com